BIOGRAPHY

Ciara Graves is a bass-heavy artist based outside of Philly in Wilmington, Delaware, blending dubstep, UK bass, and trap into high-energy sets that balance retro aesthetics with modern club culture.

Ciara developed a sharp sense of contrast, mood, and detail through a mix of scenes and influences. Internet memes, nostalgic TV reruns, gaming, and a lifelong obsession with sweet treats all inform her visual world and identity.

Her sets are fast-moving and intentional, built from bass-heavy selections, UK influences, and nostalgic flips that keep energy high without losing flow. She has supported T-Pain, CAM GIRL, BENZI, and QUIX, and performed at venues like Avalon Hollywood and SILO Brooklyn.

Outside of her project, Ciara is Head of Marketing at Audius and former Marketing Director at Thrive Music, where she contributed to ACRAZE's "Do It To It" rollout, earning gold and platinum records. She is also a beauty content creator, bringing a strong visual point of view that elevates her entire project.

Ciara is stepping into her next chapter, building a project designed to feel fun, immersive, and made for connection.
