

Long: Ciara Graves is a bass-heavy artist based just outside of Philly in Wilmington, Delaware. She blends dubstep, UK bass, and trap into a high-energy style that balances retro aesthetics with a modern club feel.

Ciara developed a sharp sense of contrast, mood, and detail through a mix of scenes and influences. Internet memes, nostalgic TV reruns, gaming, and a lifelong obsession with sweet treats all inform her visual world and identity. Her cherry motif sits at the center of her branding as a symbol of contrast: sweetness with edge, nostalgia with bite, and a balance of playful and polished.

That duality carries through her music and performances. Her productions move between heavy and light, precise and loose, familiar and forward-facing, while staying cohesive. Her sets are fast-moving and intentional, built from bass-heavy selections, UK influences, and flips that keep energy shifting without losing flow. She has supported artists including T-Pain, CAM GIRL, BENZI, and QUIX, and performed at clubs across the U.S., including Avalon Hollywood in Los Angeles and SILO in Brooklyn.

Outside of her artist project, Ciara is Head of Marketing at Audius and was previously Marketing Director at Thrive Music, where she earned gold and platinum records for her contributions to ACRAZE's "Do It To It" rollout. She is also a beauty content creator, bringing a strong visual perspective to her work. Her industry experience shapes a deep understanding of how artists build identity, momentum, and audience.

With new music and performances on the horizon, Ciara is stepping into her next chapter, building a project designed to feel fun, immersive, and made for connection.

Shortened Version: Ciara Graves is a bass-heavy DJ and artist based just outside of Philly in Wilmington, Delaware. She blends dubstep, UK bass, and trap into high-energy sets that balance retro aesthetics with modern club culture.

Shaped by nostalgic TV reruns, internet culture, and a lifelong obsession with sweet treats, her creative world is rooted in contrast, captured through her signature cherry motif, symbolizing sweetness with edge and nostalgia with bite.

That duality carries through her performances. Her sets are fast-moving and intentional, built from bass-heavy selections, UK influences, and nostalgic flips that keep energy high without losing flow. She has supported T-Pain, CAM GIRL, BENZI, and QUIX, and performed at clubs across the U.S., including Avalon Hollywood in Los Angeles and SILO in Brooklyn.

Outside of music, Ciara is Head of Marketing at Audius and was previously Marketing Director at Thrive Music, where she contributed to ACRAZE's "Do It To It" rollout, earning gold and platinum records. She is also a beauty content creator, which further shapes her visual identity and approach to building a cohesive artist project.

With new music and performances on the horizon, she is building a project that feels cohesive, immersive, and made for connection.

EPK Version: Ciara Graves is a bass-heavy artist based outside of Philly in Wilmington, Delaware, blending dubstep, UK bass, and trap into high-energy sets that balance retro aesthetics with modern club culture.

Ciara developed a sharp sense of contrast, mood, and detail through a mix of scenes and influences. Internet memes, nostalgic TV reruns, gaming, and a lifelong obsession with sweet treats all inform her visual world and identity.

Her sets are fast-moving and intentional, built from bass-heavy selections, UK influences, and nostalgic flips that keep energy high without losing flow. She has supported T-Pain, CAM GIRL, BENZI, and QUIX, and performed at venues like Avalon Hollywood and SILO Brooklyn. Outside of music, Ciara is Head of Marketing at Audius and former Marketing Director at Thrive Music, where she contributed to ACRAZE's "Do It To It" rollout, earning gold and platinum records. She is also a beauty content creator, bringing a strong visual point of view that elevates her entire project.

Ciara is stepping into her next chapter, building a project designed to feel fun, immersive, and made for connection.